Conditions Under Appeal

- $329,487 for Development Fees for Street Improvements
- $264,880 for Undergrounding Utilities Conversion Fees

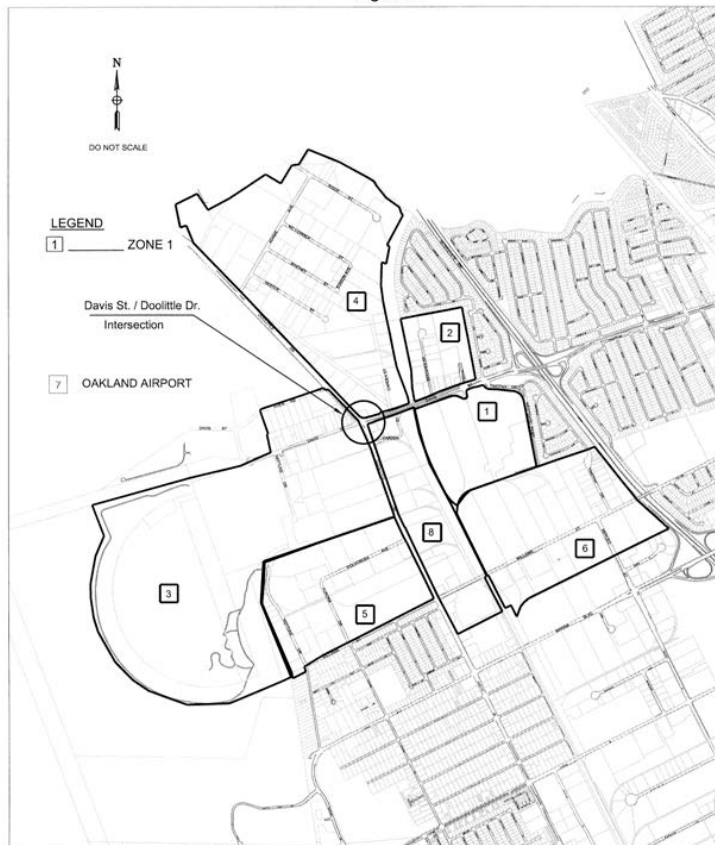

Development Fee for Street Improvements (DFSI)

- DFSI is a traffic impact fee established in 1988 by City Ordinance 88-023.
- DFSI began to help the City mitigate the effects of private development on public streets.
- DFSI is calculated for all proposed private development throughout the City that involves a change in use or function.

Additional Traffic Impact Fees

- Davis St./Doolittle Dr. Intersection Traffic Impact Fee
 - Established by Resolution 2005-128 to fund improvements to said intersection.

- Marina Blvd./I880 Interchange Traffic Impact Fee
 - Established by Resolution 2010-046 to fund improvements to the interchange.

Underground Utility District Master Plan (UUDMP)

- The City's UUDMP was established to "...increase public safety, promote the general welfare, and improve the appearance of the City."
- The UUDMP, established in 1985 by City Ordinance 85-025, identified Underground Utility Districts throughout the City where existing overhead utility lines would be converted to underground facilities.

Underground Utility Fee (UUF)

- The UUF, as established in the UUDMP, is a conversion fee calculated for any private development, per linear foot of street frontage.
- Proposed developments with costs less than 25% of the replacement value of existing improvements are not subject to the fee.
- The UUF for projects with improvement costs from 25% to 75% of the replacement value is pro-rated.

Staff Recommendation

Staff recommends that the City Council deny the appeal, per the proposed Resolution.

The proposed Resolution denies appellant's request to modify the fee amounts listed in the Site Plan Review conditions of approval, PLN2014-00028, for the Comstock warehouse building.

The Resolution affirms the BZA's approval of the Site Plan Review conditions of approval, which, amongst other conditions, imposes the payment of the fees.
